No Stag at Crown A. C. To-Night. The next stag of the Crown A. C., of Brooklyn, will come off a week from to-night. Matchmaker Johnny Oliver said last night that he had not arranged the star bout as weight, meet either Bert Keyes or some other good boy for six rounds. There will also be five other good bouts.

serred 10—that he hedn't put up a fight worth the money the spectators pall in at the gate.

Other fighters have been knocked out in a single punch, yet they were not called 'lemons.' Why not give Squires the benefit of the doubt. He may have been unlucky. He was fighting for the fighter is shown by this: Jim Coffroth is trying to find him and match him with the winner of the coming Echreck-Kaulman battle.

Coffroth wouldn't do that if he condemning a man because of one failure. Chance occasionally plays a part in ring affairs. Didn't Shrievy knock Rublin occasionally plays a part in ring affairs. Johnny Dwyer to Box Bert Keyes. A match was arranged last night between Johnny Dwyer and Bert Koyes, the former Queker City fighter. They will battle for six rounds at the next stag of the Sharkey A. C. on Wednesday night. The contest ought to result in one of the most vicious battles seen in a long time, as both lads are natural fighters who like to mix it up and have no fear whatever of a punch.
